H&W Computer Systems announces Day One support for CICS 5.2

H&W provides Day One support as part of the ongoing investment in its software portfolio to enhance value for both customers and prospects. "At H&W, we've been developing and standing behind our mainframe software for more than 35 years," said Tracy Balkovic, Development Manager. "We attribute much of our success and longevity to providing exceptional service to customers. Day One support is an example of that ongoing commitment."

An IBM Advanced Business Partner, H&W participates in the IBM vendor program so it can be prepared to offer Day One support. "Our relationship with IBM allows us to watch for upcoming changes," said Balkovic. "By being proactive, we can help ensure customers have a smooth transition to the next release, and we can look for additional opportunities to meet emerging needs."
